REFERENCE -- NOT TO BE TAKEN FROM THIS ROOM
Hello! And a friendly welcome to you. Do come in and visit with us through the school year of 1944-45.
Foreword

"Onward, Christian Soldiers," how our hearts thrill and respond to such a stirring challenge! It is our hope, in letting the lines of this song speak through these pages, that within the hearts of those who in later years dream of days of their youth, there may arise a "swansong" more sincere, sweet and clear than ever.

Onward, Christian Soldiers

Onward, Christian soldiers, marching as to war,
With the cross of Jesus going on before:
Christ, the royal Master, leads against the foe:
Forward into battle, see His banners go!

Onward, Christian soldiers!
Marching as to war.
With the Cross of Jesus
Going on before.

At the sign of triumph, Satan's host doth flee:
On, then, Christian soldiers, on to Victory:
Hell's foundations quiver at the shout of praise:
Brother, lift your voices, loud your anthems raise!

Crowns and thrones may perish, Kingdoms rise and wane.
But the church of Jesus constant will remain;
Gates of hell can never 'gainst that church prevail;
We have Christ's own promise, and that cannot fail.

Onward, then, ye people, join our happy throng!
Blend with ours your voices in the triumph-song:
Glory, laud and honor unto Christ the King,
This through countless ages men and angels sing.
THE 1945 COMMONER

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN UNIVERSITY
Dayton, Tennessee
"We have Christ's own promise, and that cannot fail"

Hail to thee, Bryan, our Bryan beloved—
School of ideals, of sunlight and song!
The sweet fragrance of a life enriched by all the Christian virtues, a life of sacrifice, infused with a thirst for knowledge so that he might impart to the youth he loves priceless riches, our teacher, our friend, our sponsor. Dr. Glenn Gates Cole.

Dedicated by his "children" who love him with an adoration born of his graciousness, the sweet fellowship enjoyed in his company, and the words of wisdom which pour from his life to our hearts—in whose honor, we, the Class of 1946, humbly present this issue of the Commoner.
The Table Is Turned for the Faculty

Thank you, faculty and staff! We owe you a debt of gratitude and praise for your hours of unselfish labor. Our prayer is that you may see in our lives the fruits of your labor and be assured that your sacrifice has not been in vain. We appreciate what you are doing for us and would like to thank you—

Mrs. Garber, for leaving your own home to make a home here for Bryan girls.
Miss Hess, for making possible an ideal dining room.
Miss Peck, for your endearing Christian qualities.
Miss Batson, for making learning a pleasure.
Miss Webb, for loyalty over and above what is reasonably expected.
Mrs. Fish, for remembering the “little things” that we often forget.
Mr. Fish, for willingness to go the extra mile.
Dr. Cole, for outstanding intellect dedicated to Christ and to us.
Dr. Morgan, for being youth's ideal—pleasantly mingling scholarship, spirituality and sociability.
Mr. Hartman, for diligence and patience in developing talents for Christ.
Mr. Ahonen, for being conscientious and steadfast.
Dr. Rudd, words cannot express all that you are to us.

"Glory, laud and honor unto Christ the King" for giving to us a faculty and staff such as you.

An outdoor sport greatly enjoyed by the students is archery. With the coming of spring, when Cupid is darting about shooting his deadly missiles, it is estimated that many shall turn from their books and take to the great outdoors, where tennis, volleyball, baseball, and recreation of various sorts will afford an opportunity to relax.

These active outdoor sports help to take the students from the regular routine of studies on to the beautiful campus which provides a grand setting for sports of all kinds.

"Join our Happy Throng"
This thru countless ages....
A Message from the President

CHRISTIAN SOLDIERS OF THE CROSS:

I call upon you as students, staff members and friends of Bryan University, to a greater loyalty to Christ and to the wonderful truths which are embodied in the cross on which He shed His precious blood. It was on the cross that Christ tasted death for each one of us. It was on the cross that He redeemed us to Himself. It was on the cross that we died to sin and were made alive unto God. It is in the shadow of the cross that we, His soldiers, are safe in the waging of the Christian warfare.

On the cross, Christ did the will of the Father. He came not to do His own will but the will of the Father. Crucified with Christ, we are united in doing God’s will and not our own. Christ, the Captain of our salvation, was perfected through sufferings. His cross makes sufferings a blessing to us instead of a curse. Remember that, dear ones, and also remember that by reckoning ourselves as dead with Christ on the cross, we are delivered from the power of the enemy and are made strong in the life of Christ to overcome all of our enemies.

The Day of Prayer on March 3 was, I trust, the beginning of a forward movement into battle for Christ, based upon the Victory that is ours in the cross of our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ. We cannot fail!

Yours in the Shadow of the Cross,

JUDSON A. RUDD, President.

"But God forbid that I should glory, save in the cross of our Lord. Jesus Christ, by whom the world is crucified unto me, and I unto the world." Gal. 6:14.
"Blend with Ours Your Voices"

Music is an integral part of Bryan University. Students have the advantage of private instruction and practical experience. Soloists and ensembles are prepared and presented in churches and are regularly a feature of the mission work sponsored by the University. Music talent represents a portion of our daily chapel service.

Professor Hartman, better known as "Uncle Jimmie" has put much time and effort in making our Music Department desirable, and music courses the most popular offered at Bryan University. The beautiful musical recitals presented under the direction of "Uncle Jimmie" are considered highlights of the year.
The compiling of a book like the Commoner has its pleasures as well as its sorrows. No doubt, you will find many mistakes; you weren't the first one to find them. There may be a few things that are original, or clever, or just plain good. If so, enjoy them; we have already.

If the good things of this volume of the Commoner over-balance the others and the book serves as a bundle of priceless memories of a happy year at Bryan, then we, the staff, will consider the time and effort as well spent and the attempt a success.

Several years hence, this Annual will in some ways be of greater interest than today. The scenes pictured here, the persons whose photos adorn these pages, the scholastic and forensic records, the groups of various sorts, will all bring to mind memories that will make you live these days over again. Perhaps you will smile at the crude apparatus as contrasted with the current day set-up. College life with all of its sunshine and shadow will be lived over again. This Annual and others like it will help to keep your love for Bryan constantly aglow.

God bless you, dear classmates, as you take your place in this confused world. Be a good soldier for Christ—always pressing onward and upward toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God, in Christ Jesus.
Newsette Staff

The Newsette staff is responsible for much of the printed material in the monthly, official news organ of Bryan, edited and printed on Bryan Hill. The Newsette, with a circulation at present of nearly twelve thousand, informs the public of student and school life, scholastic, social and spiritual. Messages of both spiritual nature and Bible study are carried each month to every state and several foreign countries. The Newsette is in all ways and always governed by the application of our school motto. "God Above All."

Beatrice Batson, Faculty Advisor: Rebecca Peck, Alumni Editor: M. Rogers, Editor: Dale Mead, Make-up Editor: F. Monck, Assistant Editor: Elaine Kennard, Campus Reporter.

Journalism Club

Have you a yen toward the pen? If so, ample opportunity for expression and development is offered by the Journalism Club. Members of the Journalism Club often have the pleasure of seeing their news articles printed in the Newsette, official monthly publication of the university. Helpful criticism concerning one another's writings, analysis of great writings, and instructions in the most modern journalistic practices are benefits enjoyed by members of the Journalism Club.
Child Evangelism

One of the greatest fields for Christian service in the world is work among the leaders of tomorrow, the children of today. The future of all Christian service depends on the training we give them now. The Child Evangelism Fellowship makes it possible for students to organize groups of children in schools and homes. The salvation story is brought to them through the flannelgraph lessons, object lessons and other visual aids. They are taught gospel choruses, scripture verses, and Bible stories. Many of the children have come to know the Lord through this ministry.

Foreign Missions Fellowship

"Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields; for they are white already to harvest."

Young men and women of the Foreign Missions Fellowship obey these words of the Lord as they study and discuss together foreign missions and missionaries.

This organization consists of those students who intend to serve Christ in foreign fields, and those who want to know more about missions that they may be faithful prayer warriors here at home.

Informal discussions concerning the requirements of various mission boards add variety to the meetings. Book reports and facts on definite foreign fields help the students to be better informed.

Special prayer meetings are held by this group to ask God's blessing upon those missionaries now serving Him and those who will serve in the future.

Seated—C. Marshall, H. Gow, A. Roos, H. Parden, P. Miller, M. Miller, B. Birch, D. Hess, B. Rosenau (President), A. Wildern (Secretary-Treasurer), M. Brickel, R. Williams, G. Standen, L. Howland, V. Smith, W. Chapman, M. L. Massie.

Third row—L. Howland, R. Williams, J. Gulley, H. Baldwin, H. Parden, E. Hall, M. Rogers.
Lay Ambassadors

"Be instant in season and out of season." Those who have not been called to a definite field of Christian service may feel that their ministry is one of prayer and service wherever they may be. The Lay Ambassadors feel it a privilege to uphold in prayer those who are out in full-time service while endeavoring to serve Christ in every way possible while still in school. It is the duty and privilege of every Christian to be a personal worker in the spreading of the gospel, no matter what his occupation might be. A special study in soul winning has been conducted for Lay Ambassadors by the club sponsor, Mr. N. O. Brooks.

First row—H. Lord, M. Rogers (Secretary-Treasurer), L. Peck (President), R. Witzky (Vice-President).

Student Pastors' Fellowship

Let us introduce to you our group of promising young student pastors who plan to make the ministry of the Gospel their life service.

This organization meets to talk over the problems in the life of a minister and to hear and give Gospel messages. The ministry of these young men is not only in the future; they learn by doing. Active service in schools, churches, and mountain missions does much to prepare them for the life of service ahead.
Scarlets

"Down, but not out," say the Scarlets, when questioned concerning their records of 'almost but not quite' victories of past years. They expect to arise with renewed strength and excel the performances of their opponents in forensics and sports. Their admonition to the Golds is, "Pride goeth before a fall!"

Cheerleaders—J. Cooper and E. Hall.
First row—B. Rosenau (Sports Captain), G. Cloer, R. Bodle, E. Kennard, H. Lord, H. Geiger, M. Rogers (Forensic Captain).

Golds

"Proud? Well, I'll say we are! Haven't we maintained a record of four successive victories with a fifth on its way?" The Golds say this with a little fear and trembling lest the closely pressing Scarlets get the benefit of the laugh which is best. Scarlets and Golds are friendly opponents, chosen by an equal division of the student body, yet maintaining a unity that is greater than any division—that of unity in Christ.
Who's Who

Who's Who in American colleges and universities includes a list of college and university students who have proven outstanding in character, scholarship, leadership, and capacity for future usefulness to society. Each year outstanding students are given this distinction of listing among the foremost American youth. Who's Who provides an incentive to students to press onward in genuine achievements and get the best results from their college experiences. It is considered among the highest honors college students can attain.

J. Quimby, Vice-President; G. Hay (Senior); F. Monck, Secretary (Soph.); H. Baldwin; A. Rager (Freshmen); A. Wildern, President (Junior); B. Rosenau (Soph.).

Student Council

Do you have any problems, boys and girls? Step right up, the Student Council is ready to hear all! The student body presents their suggestions and problems to the faculty through the Student Council, which consists of two representatives from each class. Those eligible for the Council are nominated by the faculty and voted upon by the class.

Each Monday the council meets for a discussion of those problems presented to them by the students. These problems are then brought before the entire student body in a student body meeting, with the Council presiding. The problems or suggestions are then voted upon and presented to the faculty for their consideration as the students hopefully await the decision.
Octagon

The girls have been separated in number this year but not in spirit. About thirty Octagonettes make up life in the lovely green and white Octagon (which has eight sides!). Mrs. Garber is the Counselor, and sympathetic mother to her large family of girls. The spacious central lobby into which all the rooms open is the place where the girls do their studying, praying, dating, playing and fussing. The attractively furnished Octagon extends a cheerful “come in” to occupants and visitors.

Hermitess Hall

Quite a few changes have taken place since Hermits’ Hall turned feminine. The routed Hermits would hardly recognize the beruffled and ribboned rooms as their former retreat. There are about twenty “Hermits” occupying the second floor of the Administration building. A lovely reception room for social purposes is enjoyed by the entire student body and staff. Mrs. Rudd, in her gracious, charming way, serves as House Mother and makes life more home-like for the girls.

Seated—E. Hall, V. Smith, W. Chapman, M. Rogers, B. Morgan, D. Morgan, H. Baldwin.
Hermits' Hall

Hermits' Hall has changed location this year. The boys moved down and took the "Calamity" out of the "Calamity Row," former home of the married students. Four large rooms provide living quarters for the "Hermits." During times other than quiet hours, the boys make their dormitory life most lively and pleasant, sometimes causing the passers-by to wonder about the "calamity" which is reputed to have been removed. They have their times of sweet fellowship in prayer when they kneel together in unity of spirit and mind and send up their mutual petitions to God.

Mr. and Mrs. Witzky, Mr. and Mrs. Rager, Mr. and Mrs. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Peer and George Peer.

 Married Couples

Above are pictured the victims of "Calamity Hall". Their expressions of peace and contentment would not seem to indicate that they were adverse to the situation.

Our married couples add to Bryan an atmosphere of home as they work and play together and prepare themselves for future full-time service for Christ.
SHAKESPEARE CLUB

Shakespeare has been called the outstanding dramatist of all times; therefore, those who are definitely interested in knowing more about Shakespeare and his works, including those not enrolled in the Shakespeare class, have banded together to form a club. The purpose of this club is to create an interest in Shakespeare for those who may have the idea that it is dull and uninteresting, or to enrich the enjoyment of Shakespeare for those who find it interesting, by listening to records and entering into lively discussions concerning his works and its interpretation. The club, by practical experience in acting some of these dramas, gives the students means of establishing ease in presence of an audience.

FRENCH CLUB

Parlez-vous le français bien? If not, here's your opportunity to improve! The French Club provides a means for further study of the language, development of conversational fluency and a study of the customs and habits of the French people.

A "French table" in the dining room gives an opportunity for conversational practice. French plays planned to present the French idea serve to stimulate interest.

FORENSIC UNION

There's fun at Forensic! That’s what all the students say, and it’s true. Forensic Union adds that sparkle that college life demands. It gives the students an opportunity to learn the methods and procedures of a formal meeting and to enjoy it while they learn.

Every other Tuesday, this organization meets and each program follows a different theme. Special musical numbers, book reports, readings, extemporaneous and impromptu speeches are given, each in keeping with the chosen theme. Parliamentary drill follows and then the Critic sums up the evening, giving helpful criticism wherever needed.

A business meeting brings the evening to a close and the students leave feeling refreshed after a time of fun and relaxation.
There's a college in the Southland,
Where the mountains rear their heads
And the waters of the streamlets
Join in rocky river-beds.
Here the light of sunset varies
As the shadows seek and play
To be like the mind's swift changes:
When knowledge crowns each day.

Here the youth from states full many
Fellowship in joys and fears;
And the character is forging
Strong to stand the trials of years;
Where God's gifts and mercy rising
Is replete with mirth galore,
And the heaps of garnered blessings
Crowd the fullness more and more.

Let us cherish, then, the spirit
Which we gather from the air—
As we study, toil and play here.
And the fields and beauty share;
We must raise our flags and pennants.
Raise our shouts in fun and glee
As we count our many pleasures
That come constantly from Thee.

Well we know, the friendships garnered
Our great hopes and future weal,
Knit together on this campus
As the pleasant evenings steal:
Hope's eternal visions strengthened
As we tread the college hall
Will be chains of golden splendor,
Resting lightly on us all.

—Glenn Gates Cole.

An Invitation

We advise young men who aspire to a denominational ministry, to take their training and secure their ordination under the auspices of the denomination in which they expect to function. However, if you are a Fundamental Pastor, Missionary, or Evangelist, regardless of sex, now in Interdenominational or Undenominational work, or you expect to be so engaged, and are hungry for the spiritual fellowship and solidarity of an Association in which you will be able to feel the warmth, friendship and cooperation of a large, consecrated family of Gospel Workers, then we say: “Come with us and we will do thee good.”

“TABERNACLES”
Bryan students “Tabernacle” for a time in the incomplete buildings of Bryan hill; Christians “tabernacle” during life’s sojourn in the unfinished bodies of the flesh, but we are “complete in Christ” and The Holy Spirit is willing to live in the tabernacles of our bodies now and we shall be yet revealed in our glorious new bodies.

Such assurances and glories are discussed simply each month in

The Conqueror!
Edited by Mrs. E. M. McClusky who recommends Bryan as a God-given privilege for students and those who care to invest money for God’s glory.
